SYNDICATE AGREEMENT for the NATIONAL LOTTERY

We, the under mentioned signatories are desirous of establishing a Syndicate for the National Lottery subject to the following terms and conditions:

1. The name of the Syndicate shall be [Name to be inserted]
2. The signatories to the Syndicate shall be called "Members" and shall remain Members until they either resign, fail to pay contributions in the proscribed form or breach any other terms and conditions herein elucidated.
3. The person elected to manage the Syndicate shall be [Insert in the name of the Manager] and shall be known as the Syndicate Manager.
4. The Syndicate Manager shall have the responsibility of collecting all contributions, placing and recording bets together with recording each respective Members stake in the Syndicate.
5. The Manager shall also be responsible for establishing a system to identify the numbers to be entered by the Syndicate for each National Lottery draw, collecting any Syndicate wins and distributing such in direct proportion to each Members percentage entitlement.
6. Members shall pay to the Syndicate Manager their respective stakes at least 3 weeks in advance and such funds will be held on trust by the Manager for the Members.
7. The Syndicate Manager shall place the Syndicates bets on the following day(s) [Insert in chosen day(s)] each week.
8. Should any given Member fail to pay the required contribution in a timely manner then but at his/her total discretion, the Manager may personally without compromising the individual rights of the Member make-up that Members contribution where such Member is known to be ill, on holiday or having genuine extenuating circumstances.
9. Where paragraph 8 is employed then the Member must reimburse the Manager immediately upon demand.
10. A Member may be removed from the Syndicate where he or she (a) Indicates that he or she wishes to resign as a Member (b) Where payment has not been made for 2 consecutive weeks, or (c) Reimbursement was not made pursuant to paragraph 9.
11. It is agreed that subject to acting honestly and in good faith the Syndicate Manager shall be exonerated from any personal liability that may otherwise have arisen from failure to adhere to the terms of this Agreement.

That huge jackpot was arrived at after a Superdraw and several more draws went by without a winner. Any prizes won are shared between the members of the syndicate, which means that several people can all become big winners in one go! The following syndicate agreement is for information purposes only and individuals wishing to establish a syndicate should seek independent legal advice. A majority decision on whether the group will go public or remain anonymous if they win a big prize. A Syndicates are definitely legal and can be a great way to have fun playing EuroMillions whilst also increasing your chances of winning a prize. Contact details for the syndicate manager. Q: How are prizes paid to syndicates? Many of the players, whose ages ranged from 19 to 57, feared they were set to lose their jobs when they were contacted on a Sunday morning, but in fact they discovered they were each €6.5 million richer! A syndicate of bus drivers in Dublin won a EuroMillions jackpot worth €23.8 million on Friday 1st July 2016. When the prize was paid out, each of the 22 members of the group (21 drivers and one inspector) received just over €1 million and they even arrived by bus to pick up their cheque! Q: How do you play as a syndicate? The greater the number of tickets, the better your chances of winning a prize, although if you have a particularly large amount of people, the winnings will be smaller and the syndicate may be harder to manage. Some useful points to include may be: The date the syndicate began. What to include in Your EuroMillions Syndicate Agreement Every syndicate is different, but it is a good idea to have a set of rules in the form of a syndicate agreement to help protect everyone and ensure payouts are dealt with fairly. A: Your chosen syndicate manager should be a trustworthy person, as they will be the one responsible for buying the EuroMillions tickets, checking to see what the group has won, collecting the prizes and distributing them amongst the members. An online syndicate is administered for you automatically and will legally and securely ensure that you receive any winnings owed to you. A syndicate agreement also avoids any potential tax implications. It is their responsibility to share the winnings out and, without an official agreement, that could mean the other members are presented with a big tax bill on the funds they are due. The big winners include: The Rogers family from Ireland hit the biggest jackpot in Irish lottery history when they won €175 million in February 2019. They will also need to ensure that the syndicate agreement is kept up to date and enforced. Details of how many entries your group will play in each draw. It is advised that the syndicate agreement should be signed and witnessed by each syndicate member. The Syndicate Manager will then be responsible for distributing the funds as agreed in the syndicate agreement. Q: Are lottery syndicates legal? Join a EuroMillions Syndicate Online - Save with a monthly subscription! Playing EuroMillions as part of a syndicate boosts your chances of winning a prize because, thanks to the greater purchasing power, you own a share of a larger number of tickets than you would normally have if you played by yourself. A syndicate is a group of people who play a lottery game together, allowing them to buy a number of tickets at a shared cost with an agreement to split any prizes won. Q: Do we need a syndicate agreement? A: Lottery rules state that EuroMillions prizes can only be paid to one person, which will usually be the syndicate manager. A: A syndicate agreement is the perfect way to prevent any disputes in your EuroMillions syndicate. What will happen if a player does not pay their stake on time. The cost of each player's stake. A signed agreement from the syndicate manager promising to distribute any prizes won. A: If you are looking to create your own syndicate then you can include as many players as you want and buy as many tickets as you want. Average prizes are not indicative of future prize values. The share of a prize that each player will receive. The person chosen to be syndicate manager should be trustworthy and willing to maintain an up-to-date syndicate agreement, signed by all members. The clauses contained in the agreement are suggestions only and should be adapted to meet individual requirements. UK players are not taxed on lottery winnings within the country, but the rules state that EuroMillions prizes must be paid to one person only - usually the syndicate manager. An Irish syndicate banked an incredible €88.5 million after matching all five main numbers and both Lucky Stars on 24th January 2017. Q: What responsibilities does a syndicate manager have? The numbers the group will play. If you are playing in an offline syndicate, make sure to have a syndicate agreement in place before you start playing. The winning ticket was bought in the small village of Naul in County Dublin and word soon spread about the identities of the winners. Confirmation of whether you are playing in either the Tuesday or Friday draws, or both draws each week. What will happen if a player leaves the syndicate. The anonymous players were thankful for the 'financial freedom' the win provided and insisted they would not get carried away when they picked up their cheque, but they were also looking forward to booking some tropical holidays! A group of office workers from Merseyside became known as the 'Magnificent Seven' after hitting the jackpot in November 2009 to scoop €45.5 million. They should keep track of payments, buy the relevant tickets and store them safely, before checking the tickets after a draw to tally up the prizes won. A: When creating your own syndicate, you can purchase EuroMillions tickets for your syndicate at authorised retailers in any of the participating countries or by going online. A syndicate manager will need to be appointed, as EuroMillions prizes can only be paid out to one player according to National Lottery rules. Q: Is there a maximum number of people or tickets allowed in a syndicate? A EuroMillions syndicate may be made up of work colleagues, friends or family members, but the goal is the same - to join forces for a better chance of winning prizes. It is also a good idea to appoint another member of the team to re-check the tickets. Euro-Millions.com accepts no responsibility for errors and omissions or for any loss or claim arising out of the use of this draft agreement whether in whole or in part. † Odds displayed next to this symbol are expected and not guaranteed. If you want to create your own syndicate, a structure needs to be in place before you start playing to ensure that everything runs smoothly. Before you start playing, you should lay down some ground rules so that everyone knows in which draws they will play, how much they will pay, what happens if someone doesn't pay their stake and any other potential issues. The names of the members of the syndicate. It is estimated that one in five UK lottery prizes is won by a syndicate, and there have been some huge prizes snapped up by groups in the history of EuroMillions.
